FOREWORD

The mandate of the Federal Competition and Consumer Protection Commission (FCCPC) is in reality the protection of Nigeria's most valuable assets – Nigerians; and the largest and most attractive market in Africa.

In January 2019, President Muhammadu Buhari signed the Federal Competition and Consumer Protection Act into law as a further step to boost the economy, expand opportunity and shared prosperity.

This new legislation therefore shaped FCCPC's priorities for the year. The drastic changes and broadening of scope of the new law necessitated engagement and sensitisation. Promoting a level playing field in the Nigerian marketplace and providing necessary clarity for industry and other stakeholders as well as ensuring regulatory stability are key drivers of the FCCPC.

In addition to market surveillance, complaints resolution, and investigations, in 2019, FCCPC's work focused on promoting industry responsiveness to consumers, strengthening existing relationships with sector regulators and other stakeholders, while also fostering new relationships. Further, FCCPC developed relevant infrastructure to improve public access to its services.

With respect to competition, 2019 was a year for foundation laying, learning and defining relationships as well as future course. Keeping industry engaged and providing clarity to stakeholders remain key priorities as we progress to build on the foundational work done so far.

I am therefore pleased to introduce the 2019 Annual Report. The Report provides an overview of our work in 2019 with respect to both consumer protection and competition regulation in Nigeria.

These included:

A. RAIDS AND SEIZURES

i. Food and Beverage Sector

A review of the data of the preceding year and trends in consumer complaints indicated pervasive abuse of consumer rights in the food and beverage sector, which accounts for products that directly impact the safety and well-being of consumers. As a result, the Commission carried out significant work in the industry.

Due to the persistent nature of the issues involved and the urgency required in stemming the tide, the Commission raided producers and sellers of substandard cereals, bread, bottled drinks, dairy products and unregistered sachet water. The Commission also seized and evacuated unlabeled and underweight products, including expired and unwholesome frozen foods.

Based on the gravity of the violation, the Commission either sealed or placed the implicated business under supervision to ensure compliance with any corrective measure(s) it may have imposed.

In the course of the Commission's interventions, it seized substandard food and beverage products worth over ₦210, 147,350 from malls, supermarkets, open markets, shops and warehouses.

ii. Electrical/Electronics Sector

The Commission raided different markets and outlets, including Gudu market in Abuja, Alaba International and Ladipo markets in Lagos, Sabon-Gari market in Kano and Onitsha main market. It identified and removed from the said markets large quantities of fake and substandard electrical/electronic products to protect unsuspecting consumers from purchasing them. Distributors and retailers found wanting were sanctioned accordingly.

The value of the confiscated substandard electrical/electronic products was about N55,000,000.

B. CONSUMER COMPLAINTS RESOLUTION

The year under review witnessed a sharp increase in consumer complaints across all sectors, following the Commission's deployment of an automated complaint redress system. The automated system created an enhanced interactive experience, thereby improving the Commission's interface with consumers. It introduced a web portal and added the FCCPC Consumer Complaint App, currently on Google and iOS App Store, to existing consumer complaints channels, such as email, in person, hotlines and social media platforms.

MERGERS & ACQUISITIONS (M&A)

The Commission created a Mergers and Acquisitions Unit, following the assent of President Muhammadu Buhari to the Federal Competition and Consumer Protection Act (FCCPA) 2018. The Act mandates the Commission to review and analyse all mergers and other business combinations or arrangements to ensure that they do not distort or impede the efficiency of the markets in Nigeria.

CREATION OF TRANSITIONAL JOINT REVIEW DESK WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION (SEC)

Prior to the enactment of the FCCPA in January 2019, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) was responsible for regulating mergers and acquisitions in Nigeria. To ensure a smooth transition of the merger review role of SEC to FCCPC (in line with Section 17(k) and Part XII of the FCCPA) and to preserve market stability, the chief executives of both organisations, in May 2019, agreed to create a transitional review desk tagged 'Joint SEC/FCCPC Merger Review Desk' which was jointly announced to the public on Friday, May 3, 2019. In the same spirit of cooperation, on September 5, 2019, the Commission executed a bilateral Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with SEC to formalise their working relationship. Pursuant to the said MoU, the Joint Review Desk was sunset by the end of December 2019.

MERGER REVIEW REGULATIONS AND GUIDELINES

Pursuant to Section 93 of the FCCPA, the Commission developed and published in the Federal Gazette its Notice of Threshold for Merger Notification on 9th September, 2019. The Threshold Regulation stipulated that a merger shall be notifiable before implementation if, in the financial year preceding the merger: the combined annual turnover of the acquiring undertaking and the target undertaking (combined figure) in, into or from Nigeria equals or exceeds one billion Naira (NGN 1,000,000,000.00); or the annual turnover of the target undertaking in, into or from Nigeria equals or exceeds five hundred million Naira (NGN 500,000,000.00).

The Commission also initiated and published Guidelines on Simplified Process for Foreign-to-Foreign Mergers with Nigerian Component. This was to enable efficient and timely review of foreign to foreign merger notification that were less than likely to prevent or lessen competition.

Furthermore, the Commission commenced the development of its Merger Review Regulations and Merger Review Guidelines and exposed draft copies to key stakeholders, international organisations and academia, amongst others, for feedback.

Different brands of beverages, cosmetics, beauty products (hair dye, hair attachment) and over-the-counter (OTC) medicines (Vitamin C, Vitamin B complex etc) were sampled for declared measure verification. Some of them turned out to be under-measured. For example, the measure verification carried out on 31 samples of carbonated drinks in PET and returnable bottles. 32.3% of the samples assessed did not meet the declared volume. The Commission issued corrective measures and monitored compliance.

In a continued investigation that began in 2018, twenty-two (22) samples out of about one million (1,000,000) suspected unwholesome and re-bagged rice of various weights were analysed. The Commission commenced prosecution of the suspects in June 2019.

B. Compliance to Safety Standards

The Commission conducted quality inspections of eateries within FCT, Port-Harcourt, Minna, Lagos, Osogbo, Bauchi and Kano using a checklist, which revealed some safety failures in their operations. Such failures included improper storage of raw materials, inappropriate disposal of wastes, unhygienic environment and poor water supply. Corrective measures with timelines were issued to the operators and the Commission monitored compliance.

The Commission tested samples of bread (for bromate) and flour from select bakeries and flourmills within FCT, Abuja and across the six (6) geopolitical zones. The result of these analyses showed that some samples were bromate free. However, the companies whose products tested positive were directed to stop production.

The Commission directed Johnson & Johnson Powder in Nigeria to issue a statement on the status of a recall on alleged corn starch powder purportedly found in the market. This was based on a product recall Intel on Johnson & Johnson Powder brand (Calming Lavender & Chamomile) in the U.S. The company claimed the corn starch variant seen in the market was from parallel import and not from them. The Commission, however used the opportunity to advise the company on good trading practices.
